SERVING UNTIL IT'S SOLVED

Dear Friends, Supporters, Collaborators, and Partners,

It is hard to fathom that another year has passed, yet it has. Thus, it is time to reflect upon all that we have accomplished. From serving record numbers of clients, to adjusting to changing needs, to setting our sights on the horizon, Catholic Charities continues to respond and to serve those in need.

We couldn't be more proud of the tireless team of employees and volunteers who provide countless hours of support. Every day, our most vulnerable neighbors turn to us: families seeking safety after fleeing violence, parents determined to break cycles of poverty, children deserving of nutritious meals, expectant mothers in crisis, seniors yearning for connection, and entire communities recovering from disaster.

Knowing our charge is to serve as the hands and feet of Christ, CCD is focused on the needs at hand while seeing the gaps and needs that are growing and emerging anew. We are addressing what is in front of us while finding ways to grow and build our capacity for the future.

Nine North Texas counties, nearly five million people, are counting on Catholic Charities to be there for them today and tomorrow, meeting people where they are and walking alongside them to address the root causes of poverty, hunger, isolation, and injustice.

"Serving Until It's Solved" is more than a motto, it's a promise. It means we look beyond immediate relief to create lasting change. It means serving with unconditional kindness, listening deeply, understanding fully, and building pathways forward that restore dignity and renew hope.

This past year wouldn't have been possible without you—our donors, volunteers, employees and partners—who make this mission real. Together, we embody the truth that love in action transforms lives until every need is met.

There is still more to do, and we look forward with faith and determination to what lies ahead. Thank you for being the heart of our mission.

With gratitude,

RAFAEL'S STORY

Rafael arrived at the Community Health Clinic (CHC) in June 2025 in the wake of a heart attack and faced an uncertain future. As a construction worker with literacy challenges and limited family support, he had lived for years without health insurance or access to a primary care physician. As a result, he was unaware that he had several serious chronic conditions, including dangerously high blood pressure, uncontrolled diabetes, and high cholesterol. The CHC team quickly stepped in to provide the free medical care Rafael desperately needed. Through the clinic, he gained access to ongoing primary care, specialty cardiology services, medications, health education, and a heart monitor, all without the burden of overwhelming medical costs.

> "Catholic Charities has helped me change my life. I am healthy, I am happy, and I enjoy every moment now."

With consistent care and professional guidance, Rafael began taking steps to improve his health. He attended every appointment, followed his treatment plan, and worked closely with the clinic team to better understand and manage his conditions. The results were remarkable. Within months, Rafael's diabetes was under control, his cholesterol levels had returned to a healthy range, and his blood pressure had stabilized. Today, he is thriving and no longer requires insulin or blood pressure medication. Thanks to the free, compassionate care provided by CHC, what began as a medical crisis became a journey toward long-term health, stability, and renewed hope. Rafael's story is a powerful reminder that access to essential healthcare can do more than improve lives; it can save them.

NELDA & DANIEL'S STORY

When Nelda and Daniel, a retired couple living on a fixed income, fell three months behind on their mortgage, they feared losing the home where they had built their life together. Unexpected increases in their mortgage and homeowners' insurance had placed an overwhelming burden on the couple, leaving them with few options and a growing fear of foreclosure. For Daniel, a veteran who had spent his life working hard to provide for his family, the possibility of losing their home was especially painful. The couple turned to Catholic Charities when they needed timely help. The Disaster Preparedness & Relief Services team quickly stepped in, providing emergency financial assistance that brought their mortgage current and stopped the foreclosure process. With the immediate crisis resolved, their case manager continued working alongside them to find a path toward lasting financial security.

> "Catholic Charities gave us help when things felt overwhelming and continued to help us find solutions. They were a blessing when we needed it most."

At their case manager's recommendation, Daniel requested a reassessment of his Social Security benefits and was approved for a higher monthly benefit. The additional income eased the couple's financial burden and secured their ability to remain in their home. With the threat of foreclosure behind them, Nelda and Daniel can once again look toward the future with peace of mind. Immediate assistance gave them relief when they needed it most, while continued support helped them regain their financial footing. Now, they can focus on what matters most: each other, their grandchildren, and the life they have built together.

NEVEEN'S STORY

Neveen joined the Together We Read program in hopes of improving her English but wasn't sure what to expect. After moving to Dallas from Jordan in 2023, she struggled speaking the language she once studied, and she often felt nervous communicating with others. As she settled into the program, that uncertainty began to fade. Neveen found that reading was key to building stronger English skills, describing Together We Read as "the door for English." With encouragement from her instructors and consistent practice, she became more confident in reading, writing, and speaking. She stopped guessing at unfamiliar words, learned to recognize letter sounds, and began correcting herself aloud. Before long, coworkers were complimenting her pronunciation and communication.

> "My children can speak English fluently, but they have struggled to write. This class has helped me help them."

As her literacy skills grew, Neveen discovered she could help her young daughter, who struggled with reading in school. Using strategies she learned in class, Neveen began recognizing where her daughter needed support and guided her through those challenges at home. For Neveen, learning English has opened the door to something bigger than improved reading and pronunciation; it has given her the ability to navigate everyday life and speak for herself with greater independence. Now, she is helping her daughter build those same skills and communicate with confidence. Through the Together We Read program, one mother's effort to find her voice is giving the next generation a stronger voice of its own.

RONALD'S STORY

When Ronald lost his job in 2023, he also lost his home. After an extended period of homelessness, he moved into supportive housing at City Walk and found a new beginning through Catholic Charities. Although he finally had a safe place to live, serious health challenges continued to threaten his independence.  Years without consistent medical care had left Ronald with severe vision impairment, making everyday tasks difficult. Through comprehensive case management, Ronald was connected to medical care, SNAP, SSI, Medicaid, and other essential resources. His case manager and the onsite nurse worked tirelessly to advocate for his healthcare needs, helping him navigate the healthcare system so he could receive treatment without months of waiting.

> "Catholic Charities gave me more than a home and my eyesight; they gave me my life back."

Their persistence opened the door to a life-changing outcome. In 2025, Ronald underwent two successful cataract surgeries that restored his eyesight. He regained the independence that had once seemed out of reach. Most importantly, he reconnected with his children and family, restoring relationships that had been strained during his time without stable housing. Today, Ronald remains safely housed and continues building a brighter future with the dedicated support of the Homelessness & Housing team. His journey reflects the power of compassionate advocacy: walking alongside clients, removing barriers, and remaining committed until lasting change is achieved.

VELLISTIA & JOHN'S STORY

Vellistia and John arrived at Joe's Pantry in January 2026 searching for more than groceries; they were trying to find a way forward. After relocating from Indiana to Texas for a job opportunity, the family of five found themselves in crisis when childcare challenges forced Vellistia to leave her job. With no local support system, no reliable transportation, and three children to care for, they were living in an extended-stay motel and struggling to make ends meet. What began as a visit to the food pantry became the start of a much larger journey. Through Hunger Services case management, Vellistia and John received immediate assistance with food, clothing, diapers, and transportation. Their case manager helped remove barriers by connecting them with resources to prepare for work and pursue employment opportunities.

> "We came for food, but we found so much more. They didn't just help us through the week. They helped us build a future."

Their children also benefited, receiving educational guidance and a new car seat. With the right support and a spirit of determination, Vellistia secured a contracted CDL position, and John soon found steady warehouse employment. As their financial footing improved, they began working with a financial coach, purchased a vehicle, and continued building a stronger future for their family.  Each step forward has created new opportunities for them. As Vellistia and John continue working toward permanent housing, they look forward to a future defined not by crisis, but by hope, stability, and possibility.

DEE'S STORY

Client's real name not disclosed in order to protect privacy.

At 23 years old, Dee came to the United States from Liberia expecting to build a new life with the support of people he trusted. Instead, shortly after arriving, the people he relied on left without explanation, taking his immigration documents with them. Dee soon found himself experiencing homelessness for the first time, without the documents he needed to move forward. He came to Catholic Charities seeking help replacing his green card. What appeared to be a straightforward legal case soon revealed a more complicated story. Catholic Charities attorneys worked to piece together Dee's immigration history and submitted a Freedom of Information Act request that helped clarify his status. As his case progressed, staff remained alongside him, answering questions and helping him understand each step.

> "Catholic Charities is full of good people. I am so happy for what they have done for me."

In December 2025, Dee attended his biometrics appointment, an important step toward receiving his replacement green card. While waiting, he continued studying for his GED and searching for work. His attorneys also helped him explore his path toward U.S. citizenship. Three months later, Dee received the news he had been hoping for: his green card was ready. After being left without the people and documents he once depended on, Dee found steady support at Catholic Charities as he navigated his complex legal case. With his documentation restored, he can now focus on his education, pursue employment, and build the future he came to America hoping to find.

THE SCOTT FAMILY'S STORY

In 2014, Adrian and his wife, Cynthia, attended a foster parent recruiting event at the urging of a friend. Their son was already grown, but the couple began thinking about what they would want for him if he had needed a family to care for him as a child. They realized they could provide love, security, and a home to children in need, and they made the decision to become foster parents. They joined Catholic Charities' International Foster Care program, opening their home to children from around the world who needed a safe and supportive family. When they welcomed two Eritrean boys into their home, they knew they had made the right choice. Both had endured significant hardship; one had walked hundreds of miles from his home to a refugee camp in Egypt. Over the years, Adrian and Cynthia welcomed many children into their home, always with the goal of providing a safe, loving environment filled with structure and purpose.

> "Being a foster parent has given me more experience, more wisdom, and more patience. I now have a greater capacity for love."

A little more than three years ago, a new challenge arose when Cynthia passed away. Adrian was grieving deeply, but he knew the children in his care were grieving too. Rather than stepping away from fostering, he chose to continue, recognizing that they needed one another. Together, they navigated their loss as a family. For over a decade, Adrian has had the privilege of watching his foster children grow into confident young adults, find their footing, and build stable lives in America. His commitment continues as he fosters Fabienne and Amna, offering them the same steady presence, love, and sense of family that every child deserves.

PAOLA'S STORY

Paola was overwhelmed by credit card debt, had a credit score of 575, and no savings when she first connected with CCD's Next Gen Wealth Academy. Although she dreamed of owning a home one day, her financial challenges made that goal feel impossible. Determined to change her future, Paola partnered with her financial coach to create a personalized roadmap for financial stability, receiving encouragement and practical guidance every step of the way. Together, they reviewed her credit report, created a budget, tracked her spending, and identified practical ways to reduce debt and build savings. Paola negotiated lower monthly payments, cut unnecessary expenses, and developed healthy financial habits that gave her greater confidence and control over her finances.

> "Coming out of college, I had a massive amount of debt and no financial literacy. Thanks to the coaching I've received, all that has changed."

As the months passed, Paola remained focused on her goals. She enrolled in a matched savings program, sold unused clothing for extra income, earned her Personal Trainer certification through a scholarship, and secured a higher-paying job. Even when unexpected challenges arose, she remained focused on her goals. Her perseverance paid off. Paola raised her credit score from 575 to 694, reduced her credit card debt by more than half, and in February 2026, she and her fiancé achieved a milestone they once thought was impossible: purchasing their first home. With personalized guidance from the Next Gen Wealth Academy team and a commitment to keep moving forward, Paola built the confidence and financial stability needed to create the future she once only imagined.

ARIEL'S STORY

Ariel became pregnant at 21 while in the middle of trying to leave an unsafe relationship. Having aged out of the foster care system, she was facing first-time motherhood without a support system or a safe place to live. Overwhelmed by an uncertain future, she turned to Mater Maria, Catholic Charities' home for unhoused expectant mothers. The Mater Maria team provided comprehensive care, including case management, education, transportation to medical appointments, clothing, and skills training to help Ariel prepare for motherhood and independent living. With that support, Ariel worked hard to rebuild her life, securing employment, obtaining vital documents, and developing the skills she needed to move forward. Three months later, she gave birth to a baby boy, Akari, a moment she proudly describes as "perfect."

> "It's really touching, all that they've done for me and my baby. You never feel like you're alone or forgotten here."

Ariel worked closely with the Mater Maria staff to secure permanent housing for herself and her son. Before she moved in, a partner organization fully furnished the apartment, and Mater Maria provided essential household items, including a safe sleep space for Akari, cleaning supplies, and other necessities. Ariel graduated from Mater Maria in April 2026, once her apartment was approved. Since leaving Mater Maria, she has remained connected to staff while caring for Akari and working toward independence. With a home of her own and the support to care for her son, Ariel is building the life she once hoped was possible.

MAYELIN'S STORY

As a Cuban refugee, Mayelin arrived in Dallas facing significant challenges securing housing, safety, and basic needs for her family. Shortly after arriving, she connected with Catholic Charities for financial assistance, which opened the door to the broader support she needed to build a new life. For the next two years, Catholic Charities remained a steady source of support as she worked to find her footing and create a safe future for her family. As new needs emerged, the Refugee Services team continued looking for ways to help. Mayelin received assistance with rent, food, and other essentials as she worked to establish a more secure life for herself and her family. Her case manager connected her with additional resources, creating a network of care that extended well beyond her initial needs.

> "I am grateful to have found the right place and the right people when I needed them most."

Through it all, Mayelin remained determined to move forward. With guidance, she found employment, secured stable housing, and continued making progress resettling in her new home. Along the way, she found something equally important: people she could trust when life felt uncertain. With each challenge she faced, Mayelin found help to take the next step. Her journey is a reminder that rebuilding a life takes courage, perseverance, and people who are willing to walk alongside you along the way.

MARIA'S STORY

Maria was looking for a place to stay active and connect with others when she was introduced to the Brady Senior Center. With the help of transportation services, she visited the center regularly, where she found exercise classes, meaningful friendships, and a true sense of community. Those friendships became especially meaningful when life took an unexpected turn. As her brother began experiencing memory loss, Maria became his sole caregiver. The emotional and physical demands of caring for him left her overwhelmed, and the cheerful woman who once greeted everyone on the morning bus gradually grew quiet. Staff members noticed the change and reached out before Maria ever had to ask for help, recognizing that caregivers need support, too.

> "Everyone here is like family. I feel so proud and so comfortable here. To me, the Brady Center is my home."

They connected her with caregiver resources, a peer support group, and free counseling services. Surrounded by people who listened, understood, and walked alongside her, Maria found the strength to care not only for her brother, but for herself as well. Over time, her smile returned. She reconnected with friends, rejoined activities, and rediscovered the sense of joy and belonging that first drew her to the Brady Senior Center. Today, Maria continues caring for her brother with renewed strength and resilience. Her journey is a reminder that sometimes the greatest gift a community can offer is simply knowing when someone needs support and being there when it matters most.

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT

CECELIA GANNON

> " I'm happiest when I'm serving. "

After spending more than 25 years managing people, guiding employee relations, and driving national HR initiatives for Big Four accounting firm and professional services giant PricewaterhouseCoopers, Cecelia Gannon now spends her days in a much different fashion: helping feed those in need at Joe's Pantry, one of Catholic Charities' five fixed pantry locations located throughout North Texas.

Twice a week, rain or shine, Cecelia puts her years of computer and people experience to work registering and checking-in those who visit the pantry in search of nourishment, assistance, and human connection.

Switching from a company of more than 360,000 employees around the world to pouring her heart and energy into volunteering for nonprofit organizations like Catholic Charities wasn't as tough of a transition as some might think. Cecelia found a common thread between the two worlds: helping people.

Cecelia's Catholic faith has called her to be involved in her community and to help those who are less fortunate. So, when she retired from the corporate world in 2023, she was ready to jump in. "I knew I wanted to do some volunteering, and I was very familiar with Catholic Charities, so I went on the website to see what was available," she said.

"When I read about Joe's Pantry, I knew that's where I wanted to serve."

"The need for food has been eye-opening," she said. "It has probably humbled me more than I thought it would."

As she became more familiar with the pantry and its needs, Cecelia transitioned from stocking shelves to working more directly with clients in the pantry's intake process. "I spent my career working with people and systems, so it was a good fit," she said. "I just told the staff at Joe's, 'tell me what you need done.'"

Though her other responsibilities as a volunteer on the boards of the Dallas Wind Symphony and Young Catholic Professionals each bring their own unique enjoyment, Cecelia said her time working at Joe's Pantry is special. "I'm happiest when I'm serving. I feel very fulfilled whenever I've helped others. It's joyful."

For Cecelia, volunteering is not simply a way to give her time; it is a source of genuine joy, and she encourages others to experience that same fulfillment for themselves. "I tell people all the time — come spend one day, and see what volunteering looks like, and I know you will walk away with a smile on your face."

Their service shines throughout the year, beginning with the spring Mass and Luncheon, and culminating in the fall's Hope for the Holidays gathering. One of their most significant contributions is their crucial support of the Christmas Distribution Program, which brings joy to over 600 families annually by providing them with gifts.

Additionally, the Angels of Charity serve as liaisons for each Mission Advisory Council, offering invaluable assistance to all client services.

PHILANTHROPIC SPOTLIGHT

MARGUERITE & MICHAEL MARZ

> "Their compassion is reflected in every life they touch."

Marguerite and Michael's journey with Catholic Charities began in the early 2000s, as their children were graduating from high school. At that time, they started a new chapter, one centered on giving back and serving others through philanthropy. Marguerite often says that as their children graduated, she and Michael "graduated" to Catholic Charities. Looking back, they are inspired by how the organization has grown while remaining steadfast in its mission of serving those most in need.

One of Marguerite's earliest opportunities to serve was as Chair of the Christmas Distribution Program, a role she held for many years. Through that experience, she became involved in many of Catholic Charities' ministries and programs and came to know its directors and staff personally. She witnessed firsthand the dedication, compassion, and tireless work they bring to every person who walks through their doors. "Their compassion is not simply written in a mission statement; it is reflected in every decision they make, every program they provide, and every life they touch," she said.

Marguerite later served on the Angels of Charity Board as President during the COVID-19 pandemic, and as Chair of the Mission and Programs Committee on the Executive Board. Each role deepened her appreciation for an organization that never stops moving forward. During the pandemic, she and Michael admired how Catholic Charities adapted and found new ways to meet the needs of its community while continuing to serve with unwavering commitment and compassion. Serving as Co-Chairs of the 2024 Bishop's Gala with their dear friends, Mary Lynn and Fred Bangs, was another meaningful milestone in their journey.

Marguerite and Michael believe their philanthropy should reflect their faith and values, making Catholic Charities a natural fit. They have seen firsthand its faithful stewardship of donor resources and extraordinary breadth of services. From educating children and adults and providing food for those who are hungry, to supporting expectant mothers, offering health and counseling services, providing homes for the unhoused, and welcoming immigrants and refugees, Catholic Charities serves individuals and families from birth to the end of life with dignity, compassion, and hope.

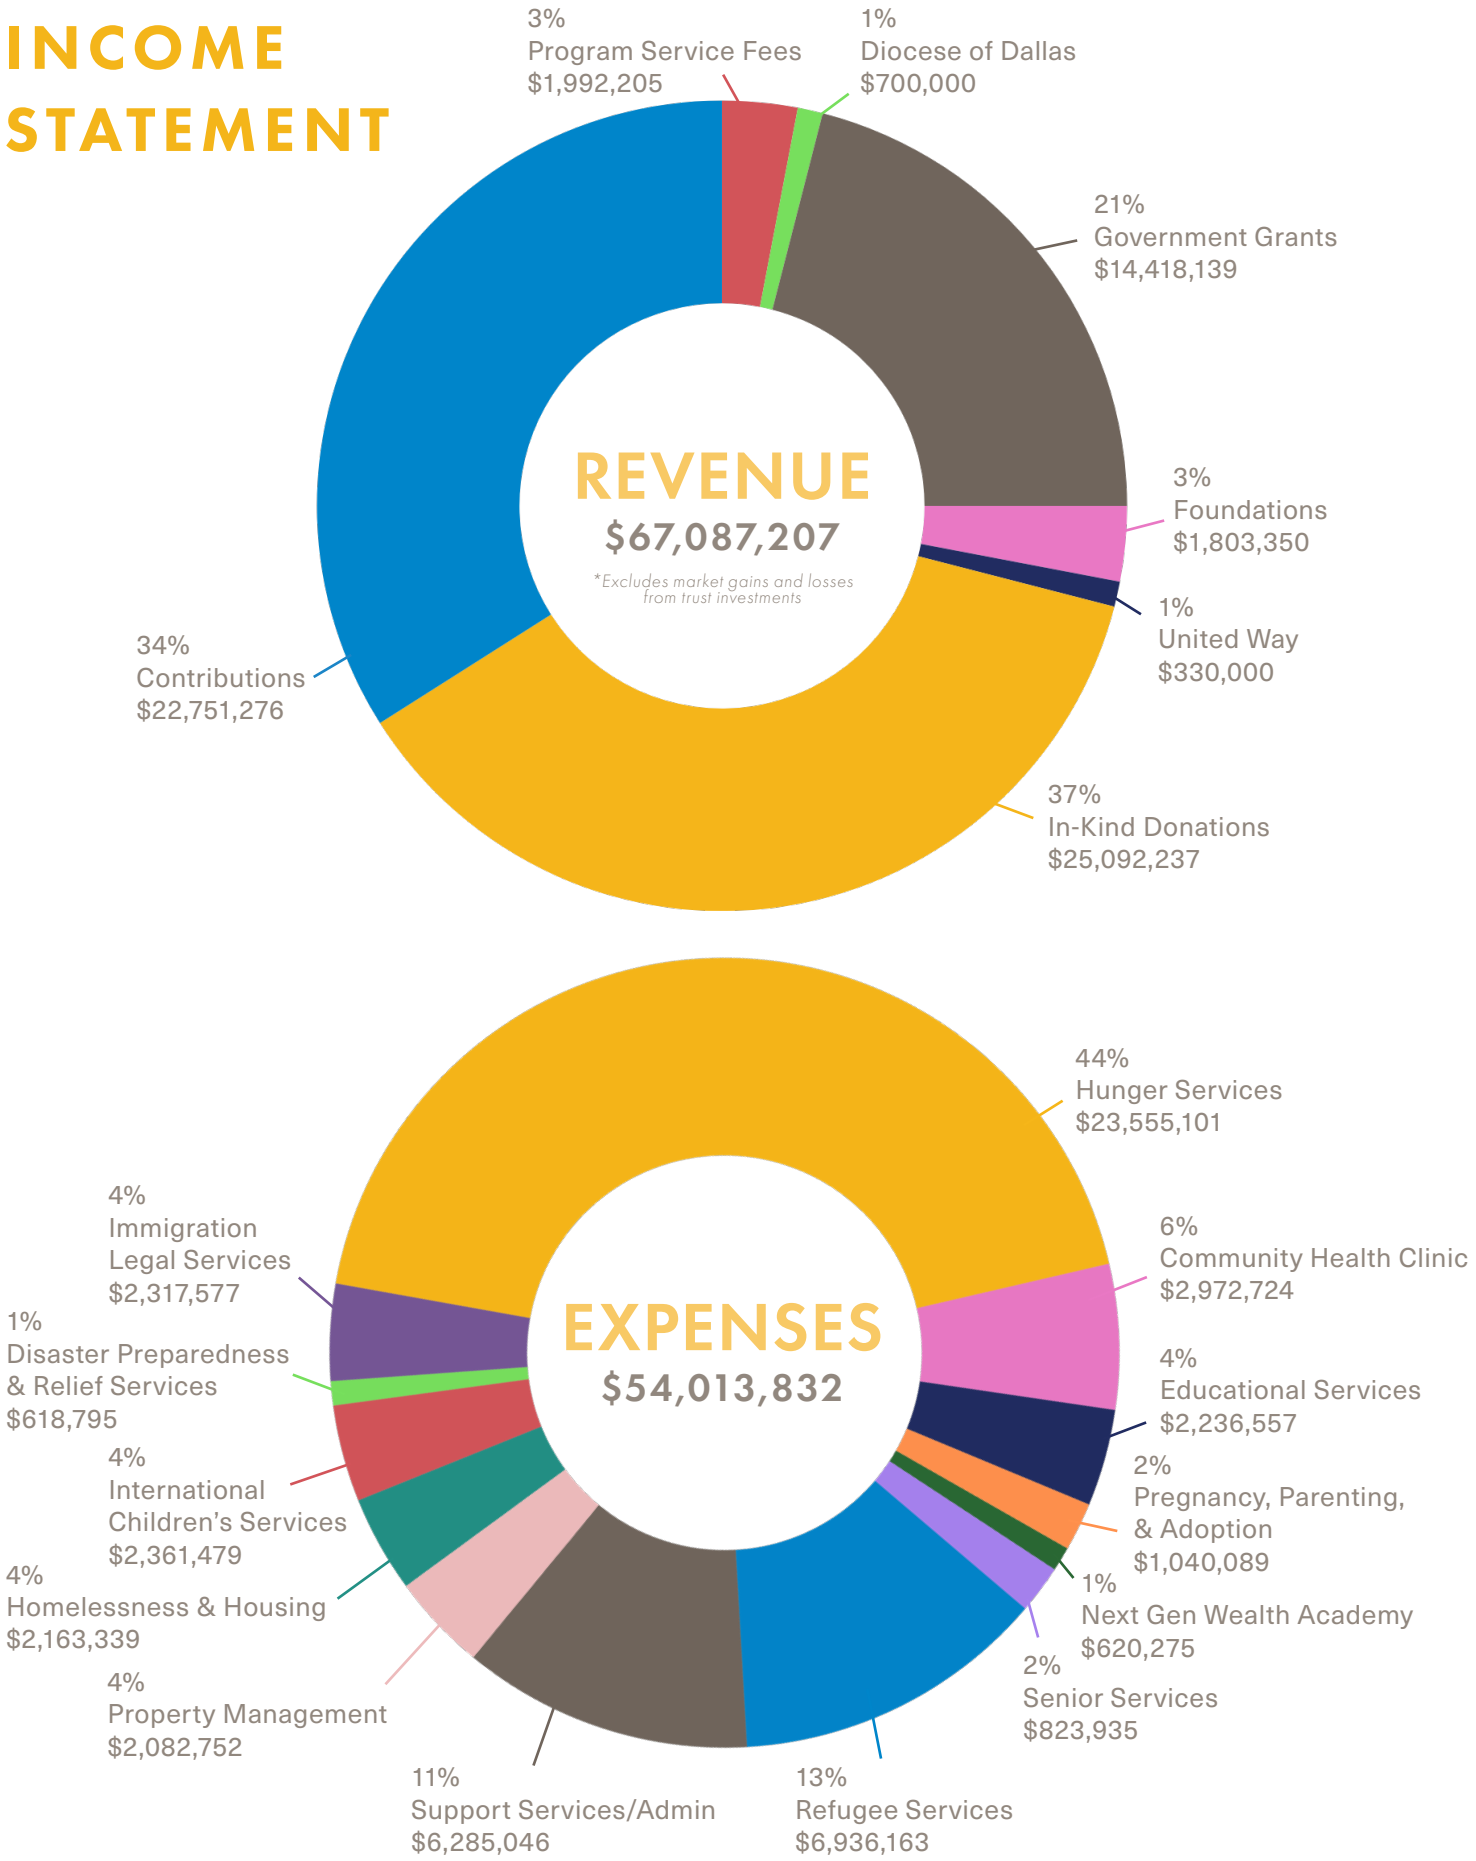

After more than two decades, they remain inspired by the organization's ability to identify and respond to the community's needs. For Marguerite and Michael, being part of this mission has been a gift, and they hope future generations will also experience joy and fulfillment through Catholic Charities.
